

SUBJECT: Teaching Strategies

DATE: July 5, 2008

Subject & Date

Notes, details, outline.

Key Points/Main
Ideas/Maps

Categories of strategies

Practical examples, Case studies, Materials-based strategies, Summarizing, Cooperative Learning, Setting objectives & Providing feedback, Multimethodology.

Practical examples

Connects the lesson to the real-world.

Case studies

Scenarios where students can problem-solve and discuss possible solutions and alternatives.

Materials-based Strategies

The materials "give" you the strategy (e.g., graphic organizers)

Summarizing

Steps for outlining and reviewing the highlights. Use Cornell Notes Format!

Cooperative Learning

Small heterogeneous groups, give instruction to groups, each student has a for individual accountability.

Setting objectives & Providing feedback

Students need to know what is required of them. Feedback helps them know if they are on the right track!

Multimethodology

*Using a variety of techniques
Where can I find more??????? Books? Websites? Colleagues?*

Make notes to yourself!

Choosing the strategy!

*How?!?!?!
Research and best practice. Will it fit my program? Will it work?*

*Numerous types of teaching strategies..... gives instruction variety, can enhance student learning and motivate students who may have lost interest. A strategy that does not work with one class may work with another.
KNOW my students and the topic in order to successfully implement!*

Action Steps:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____